WILKES-BARRE TWIRLER TO GET CHANCE

Beretski.

Manager Pete Noonan, of the Wilkes-Barre team of the New York State league, says that the Boston Americans have notified him that they will file a draft for Pitcher Beretski, of the Barons. Noonan picked up Mike Beretski, nineteen-year-old boy, off the sand lots of Wilkes-Barre last spring. The kid started to show form right from the start, beating Montreal and Rochester, of the International league, in the spring training games. He won fifteen and lost ten games in the State league, which is not at all bad for a beginner when it is remembered that the Barons made a miserable showing all year, losing sixtyone and winning only fifty-two contests. Mike has exceptionally good control, a good curve and fast ball and nerve to spare. He is a right hander and can hit as well as pitch.

Harrison Grey Fluke and George Mooser are to produce an American adaptation by Marlon Fairfax of an Hungarian play called "Mrs. Bolty's Daughters."

When Al Flaticos arrived here this morning with his big musical comedy repertoire company to open a week's engagement at the Odeon, he said "Don't mention the European war, because I am absolutely neutral as every American citizen should be." One glance at the list of names on his program will prove this.

Starting with Mr. Flaticos himself, his folk came from the sunny shores of southern Italy. Ted E. Galbraith is a typical Scotchman. Ted says "Over in Scotland we have the Galbraith plaid, but, as much as I love Scotland, the United States comes first with me. Then comes the good old Irish name of Walter Riley.
Riley says "I take an Irishman to be a good actor, also a good fighter." Next are Loretta Gundersch and Alma Grant. They have relatives in the trenches over in Germany.
Jonathan Peterson is Danish. Jonathan says, "Just watch me; some day I'll be as famous in the show business as my Danish sister, Betty Nansen." Then there is English Grace Kern and Mildred Rand. Rex Bernard said not to forget to mention him along with the others from the other countries, as he is from Muncie, Ind.

"Italy at War on the Austrian Frontier," is being shown today at the Star theatre. One of those old time 101 Bison Ranch dramas revealing the great West as it really is and featuring Miss Anna Little.

SELWYN STARRED IN PLAY AT THE GRAND

Irvin Cobb Appears in Lasky Film Production of
"The Arab."

Among the varied and extraordinary scenes shown in Jesse L. Lasky's
with Edgar Selwyn as the star in the title role, which is the attraction at the Robinson Grand today, are those in the harem of the Turkish governor of a Syrian town. This governor is in love with Mary, the daughter of the Christian missionary, and takes advantage of the order for a general massacre of the Christians to get her into his possession. She is ultimately rescued by "The Arab," her desert lover, who forces his way into the palace against all hazards.

Irvin Cobb, the world famous humorist, plays a minor role in the Lasky's photo-drama of "The Arab," though his name does not appear. He is "The American Tourist" and it may be said that he manages to put into his little scene with Edgar Selwyn a touch of the same humor with which his pen is so marvellously gifted. Mr.
Cobb participated just out of good fellowship and friendship—and perhaps, a bit for the fun of it. That's the sort of man he is.

Tomorrow, "The Royal Family" will be presented with the gifted ingenue, Ann Murdock, as Princess Angela.

Thomas Raceward's successful stage play, "Sunday," in five acts, featuring Reine Davis as a superb cast, is the feature offering of the Orpheum theater today. It is a story full of heart interest well sustained, sublimely pictured and has a pleasant ending not, however, before there has been a continuous series of wonderful adventures, love feuds and strife and other exciting incidents of camp and society life with a dash of real English aristocracy thrown in by way of contrast.

Tomorrow, the brilliant John Emerson with the support of an all star cast, will appear in the marvelous Mutual masterpiece, "The Failure," in five acts.

"Just Boys," by Katherine Browning Miller and Allena Kanks, was one of the productions of the week in New York, the feature of the play being a scene in the juvenile court, said to be very touching.
